THE OWOSSO TIMES.

EDMUND O. DEWEY, EDITOR.

OWOSSO, FRIDAY, OCT. 8, 1897.

The death of Gen. Neal Dow removes on of the unique figures of the century. His essful work for the cause of temperance will give him a prominent place in the his- A. work, and is at present in the same tory of the country.

The names of Mrs. L. E. Gould, of this elty, Will McCullough, of Shiawassee, and affections of her associates and as the years Howard Slocum, of Caledonia, are being mentioned as candidates for the place on the county board of school examiners to succeed J. A Thompson.

The republicans were generally success ful in the Connecticut town elections Monday. An amendment to the constitution providing that voters must be able to read any portion of the constitution or statutes, and must also be able to write, carried by an overwhelming majority.

The Dingley law receipts for the month of September exceed those of the second month of the Wilson law, and the deficit for the month is trifling. The second ath of the Wilson law developed a deficit of over $13,000,000, while the second month of the Dingley law was only about one-sixth of that sum.

The American "Economist" says: "The spreading of protectionist sentiment in the south, the impartial and wholly national spirit which has determined the provisions of the Dingley law, and the wise and statesmanlike utterances of President McKinley have gone far to destroy the remnants of that sectionalism which years ago threatened to destroy the Union."

Death of Mrs. Fred H. Clark.

On Wednesday evening of last week Mrs. Fred H. Clark and her five year old daugher left Owosso, after a visit of everal weeks rith relatives and friends here, for their ome in Kansas City, Mo., where she arrived Friday morning. For several days before leaving she suffered from a slight fever but was not at all alarmed, stating that she frequently felt worse and that it was probably nothing but a slight attack of malaria. Sunday noon a telegram to R. P. Bigelow stated that Mrs. Clark was in a serious condition and could not live but a the Junction House few hours. This was followed by a dispatch in the evening saying that she died at 5 p.

ement was a great shock to her many friends in Owosso. but few of whom knew anything of Mrs. Clark's sickness or of the fact that she had been a sufferer for nearly two years with diabetes. For the latter disease she had been treated by an eminent specialist and was much improved, although her system was greatly weakened, rendering her unable to withstand the attack of malaria with strong tyshold symptoms. The fever developed rapidly on Saturday and she became uncon clous about midnight, remaining so until her death.

Mrs. Clark was a daughter of Mr. and drs. John Johnson, of Chesaning. She was borne in Dansville, Steuben Co., N. Y., May 25, 1868. The family removed to Owosso in her early childhood. She graduated from the Owosso high school in the class of '85, Mr. Clark being a member of the same class. They were married in a few days. May, 1887. Later they removed to Bay City, where Mr. Clark engaged in Y. M. C.

work in Kansas City. By her many admirable qualities Mrs. Clark years ago gained a strong hold on the past and she was called to take part in the work of life she further endeared herself to those with whom she was thrown in contact. Her memory will always be a bless ing to her bereaved husband, child and parents. The tenderest sympathy of the friends of the family is extended to Mr.

The remains were brought to Owoss Tuesday evening, the funeral occurring Wednesday afternoon from the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Bigelow. Rev. C. V. Northrop, assisted by Rev. W. L. Farnum, of Flint, (former pastor of the deceased) conducted the services. The remarks of Rev. Farnam were very appropriate and touching, as well as comforting to the afflicted ones. The remains were laid to rest in Oakhill cemetery. The profusion of fioral tributes was very noticeable Among the beautiful pieces was a broken column, sent by the Apollo Club, of Kansas City, of which Mr. Clark is a member.

City Clerk Edwards made his first returns of death to the state departmen under the new registration law, Monday. There were fourteen deaths in the city during the month of September, corresponding to an annual death rate of 7.14 per one thousand population, Of these, four were from heart failure, one from suicide, four cystitis. None of the deaths registered $100; poor, $859.43. occurred from the common infectious diseases of children.

About 9.30 last night a fire alarm was turned in from box 41. The fire company at once responded and found the house of fire. The family were staying with M. Crooks, 208 south Washington street. When the whistle began to blow Mrs. Mehlenbacher seemed to have a presentment that it was her house. Though she had been sick for some time and the night was cold, she immediately dressed herself and started for the fire, not heeding the pleadings of Mr. and Mrs. Crooks. The fire, it is thought, was set by a tramp in search of a place to sleen.
